

I Still Have Some People I Want to Change

Did we catch them in the act, or what.
You know what I'm talking about.
They never thought that they'd get caught.
I'm turning it inside out.

For example, let's have a shutdown!
It's worth it for our country!
I'd love to have a shutdown,
That way we can get stuff done!

Don't look so unhappy,
It's very un-American.
Don't you love our country?
Then why would you let them in?

People love the NRA,
People love to blame them.
People in a gun-free zone,
That's like going in for the ice cream.

I like my targets open and soft
That's like, "Here I am, take me!"
But schools, I want to make them hard,
like Chinese President Xi.

He's President for life,
that sounds good to me!
It's so much fun, it'd be so much fun
To be like Chinese President Xi!

There's a cooling, and there's a heating,
I mean, look, all over the place.
We're like the great sleuth, to find that out,
Like finding a shape in space.

Like finding out that Chaos
Is only great energy!
And energy is needed, forever,
like Chinese President Xi!

People will always come and go,
I'm always seeking perfection,
Like a bullet in a gun-free zone
That goes in the opposite direction.

And you may love it, or you may say
That's terrible, but listen, that's me.
I walk between buildings for exercise
Just like Chinese President Xi.
